Report of the Programme:

Objectives:-

- ⇒ To make clear view among the students that book donation provides an access to education and fostering a love of reading.
- ⇒ To create an awareness in reading books and make it available and accessible to the fellow peers who cannot afford them.
- ⇒ To help the department to build collections and meet the diverse needs.

Participants of the Programme:

All the Assistant Professors of the department of Education and more than 50 students were participated to this programme.

Description of the Programme:

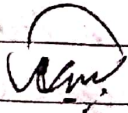

A book donation program was organised by the department of Education today at the Room No 6 of Department of Education. The programme was started at 11.30 A.M. Respected Abani Saharia explained the purpose of the meeting. A welcome address was delivered by the Head of the Department, Hiranmoyee Medhi, where she briefly explained the need and importance of the book donation programme. In her lecture, she pinned that gift of a book is the greatest gift. By donating books, one can give opportunity to find the book that will help in education and also in the lives of others. Donated books can supplement educational resources. Dr. Fajlul Karim also delivered a short lecture. In his lecture, he added that book donation is a wonderful way to help friends and fellow peers. It also helps to ^{make} bridge among the students and to the department to make a good collection which will benefited other students.

Students from sixth semester were donated their books to The departmental library. At 1.00 P.M., the programme was ended offering a vote of thanks by Dr. Nripendra Deka.
